Lycoming County Fairgrounds

On behalf of the committee , thank you for considering corporate sponsorship of the 16th “Balloonfest, Air Show & So Much More” which will be held on Saturday, September 10th and Sunday, September 11th, 2022 at the Lycoming County Fairgrounds, Hughesville, PA. For any successful event, cash and donated services/products are critical and necessary for continuation of the event. Business support allows us to keep this family-friendly event affordable for all. In becoming a sponsor, you are demonstrating to the community that you want to share in the celebration and support of something spectacular!

The attractions scheduled promise to make this a “not miss” regional event. We continue to see attendance grow as we strive to offer something for everyone.

For the general public, we have contracted with hot air balloons which will be flying, weather permitting, during scheduled hours during the event. All pilots have commercial licenses and will be able to take attendees on flights. Other attractions at the event will be professional air show acts including aerobatic flight and skydiving performances. We are also working to add other ground attractions in addition to a BMX team and ATV drag races. And we offer entertainment such as puppets, magician, heavy equipment rodeo, and “so much more”. Vendors offer a varied selection of food, souvenirs, crafts, and exhibits for family fun. The day will close with a night air show, and an impressive laser light show choreographed to music.

We understand that without your help, this event cannot take place. With this in mind, we offer several corporate business packages to promote your business and entertain your clients and employees. There are also opportunities to sponsor specific acts or promote your business by name with other “name recognition sponsorships”.

Promotion and Advertising:

We realize that promoting an event is paramount to its success. We also understand a primary reason for any sponsorship investment is communicating to the public that your business helped to make the event possible. With this in mind, we have commitments with local and regional media and utilize social media to promote and advertise this unique event.

Targeted advertising in extended regions increase awareness and attendance. The Williamsport Sun Gazette provides generous newspaper promotion. Lamar Outdoor Advertising provides billboards. Along with posters and brochures, we advertise in several travel publications and receive TV coverage and advertising. We contract with Backyard Broadcasting as the radio group sponsor of the event with ads and promotion airing on their six radio stations.

As a sponsor, you will receive advertising as specified in the sponsorship level you choose. In addition, throughout the event, our announcer repeatedly recognizes sponsors and suggests attendees show appreciation by supporting those businesses that have made the event possible. If a recorded ad is provided to us, it will be played periodically during the event. All sponsors are recognized, and those sponsoring particular performances will be thanked for their support during show times.
